Lille

CALL FOR PAPERS

LEM (Lille Economics Management), together with ETHICS EA 7446 (Experience, Technology & Human Interactions, Care & Society) and LITL (Laboratoire Interdisciplinaire des Transitions de Lille) are pleased to announce that the 40th Applied Microeconomics Days will be held at:

Lille, France, on 6 and 7 June 2024 on the campus of the Université Catholique de Lille.

The purpose of this two-day conference is to bring together academics and researchers to present and discuss their ongoing research, and to stimulate interaction and cooperation between them. Topics with an interest in the broad area of applied microeconomics are covered: consumer and demand analysis, producer and cost analysis, industrial economics, organizational economics, innovation economics, labor, education, migration economics, health, family economics, public economics, spatial economics, transportations, finance, risk and insurance, development economics, welfare economics, agricultural economics, environmental economics and natural resources, law and economics, behavioral and experimental economics, applied micro econometrics, etc.

The keynote lecture will be given by Ghazala Azmat, professor of economics at Sciences Po in Paris, France.

The JMA's job market will give the opportunity to PhD candidates and post-doctoral researchers to signal themselves in the program as candidates for the next recruitment campaigns.

The Revue économique will devote a special issue for this conference in September 2025.
